The ForrestBar

Table of contents

1. What's the Forrestbar?

The Forrestbar is a toolbar made for Mozilla (http://www.mozilla.org/) (and Firefox (http://www.mozilla.org/products/firefox/) compatible) that eases the navigation of Apache projects and resources, and to the local Forrest running on your machine.

2. Installing the Forrestbar

Note:
Forrestbar does not currently work with Firefox 0.9+

To install the latest nightly version brought to you by Gump (http://gump.apache.org/) in Mozilla (http://www.mozilla.org/) or Firefox (http://www.mozilla.org/products/firefox/) , just install it (javascript:InstallTrigger.install({'Forrestbar': 'forrestbar.xpi'});) or download it (forrestbar.xpi) and drop it on a mozilla window.

To get the latest and greatest version run the forrestbar target of the Forrest build.
